

Project: Identifying the needs of General Practitioners to provide better care for NET patients

We have identified that there is a need for General Practitioners (GPs) to gain further education about Neuroendocrine Tumours to enhance diagnosis, ongoing care and management. To do this, we request the provision of the details of your General Practitioner (GP) in order to contact them to identify what the gaps in knowledge are, and tailor education and resources to close these gaps.

Our initial education program will be for GPs who are caring for patients with Neuroendocrine Tumours (NETs). This will update them on the management of NETS, clinical trials, referral and involvement in Multidisciplinary Teams. From there we will be providing education sessions for all GPs in the aim that patients can be diagnosed sooner, and delivery of care can be comprehensively coordinated and managed.

We truly appreciate your assistance with collection of this information
