

NeuroEndocrine
Cancer Australia

NeuroEndocrine Cancer Australia

Victoria Overview

Victoria

In VIC alone our NET patients make up almost 21% of all calls to the specialist NET Nurse line, making 1,077 contacts in the last year alone

”

"I found the NET Nurse Service incredibly helpful. The support was prompt, reassuring, and very informative during a time when everything felt overwhelming. I appreciated the clarity of the explanations, the compassionate approach, and the resources provided, especially the list of specialists and the suggested questions to ask my doctors. The service has been professional, warm, and genuinely supportive. Thank you for the guidance and care."

— NET patient

Support

Education

Research

Awareness

Advocacy

Daniel, Victoria (VIC)

Daniel's diagnosis came after persistent symptoms were attributed to stress and gastrointestinal issues, delaying access to the right care. He shares his experience to highlight the gap in awareness and the importance of specialist NET teams.

Daniel's story.

“ I went to the local GP because I couldn't burp... I was feeling fine and thought that this was a total waste of the doctor's time.

—Daniel Renfrey (Melbourne)

Support

Education

Research

Awareness

Advocacy